

Dear Creative One

... When you showed up for your creativity, the moment came alive and you with it. Remember?
Your senses applauded, your mind became more peaceful,
your body relaxed, and your soul winked at you (the way souls do when at last we turn to the dimension of the universe where wonder resides and where our uniqueness is liberated — even if it's just for 5 minutes).

today show up just a little,
Jill
