

Permission

You've been granted permission to lay underneath your Christmas tree and gaze up into the branches and bulbs if you are an adult in need of a little childlike wonder. Try it.
(May be applied to any tree outside as well, but watch for frostbite, birds, and falling coconuts.).

Jill Badonsky